Air Corps Announces Vacancies

Three Hundred Cadets Needed to Fill March Primary School Quota

That 300 unfilled vacancies exist in the March class for flying cadets in the Army Air Corps Primary schools was revealed in a communication from Major General H. H. Arnold, chief of the Air Corps, San Francisco, California, to the university ROTC headquarters.

"I appreciate the fact that many young men are desirous of entering the Air Corps flying schools but are uncertain as to how to obtain this flying instruction in one of the finest flying schools in the world, followed by two to five years of active duty as reserve officers in our regular army air corps squadrons," Major General Arnold disclosed.

Qualifications

Men between the ages of 21 and 26, possessing at least two years of college education or who are able to pass an examination demonstrating the equivalent amount of schooling and who can pass the physical examination for flying, are admitted to one of the nine civilian pilot schools engaged in primary training for the Army Air Corps.

Flying cadets are furnished free transportation from the point of enlistment to the schools, free flying instruction, food, clothing and shelter while undergoing training and are paid $75 a month while learning to fly and are given a $500 bonus after three years' active service as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

Training

After three months' primary flying training at once of the nine schools, three of which are in California, the students are sent to the Air Corps Training Center at San Antonio, Texas. After six months at the training center, the students are graduated and commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve. They may then be assigned to active duty for three or five years at various Army Air Corps stations.

Competition for the March class is not as great as it will be for subsequent classes, because there are already many applicants from college classes graduating next June.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing to the Ninth Corps Area Headquarters, Presidio of San Francisco, California.

Mathematics Club Hears J. Rooley

James Rooley, Laurel, addressed the last Mathematics club meeting on "Horner's Method of Approximating Roots of Equations of Higher Degrees Than the Second."

"The next meeting of the club will probably be during the second week of April. Pi Mu Epsilon will meet during the first week," said Harold Chatland, mathematics instructor.

Pi Mu Epsilon is the mathematics honorary fraternity. The Mathematics club is for anyone interested in mathematics.

Telescope Needs Special Beeswax, Large Tire Patch

Should you run over a spike and tear a twelve and one-half inch hole in your tire, there is only one place in town where you could get tire patching large enough to fix it. Harold Chatland, mathematics instructor, has just received a sheet of patching that size and will use it on the telescope being ground in Craig hall by physics and mathematics students.

Tire patching will be used in a new polishing process and Chatland and his constabulary had to send to the factory to get a sheet as large as is needed. Ordinary dealers do not sell strips wider than five or six inches.

The astronomers are also awaiting a shipment of one pound of special pure beeswax to be used in the process. Ordinary beeswax cannot be used as it may have impurities which would scratch the mirror.

"When we get all the material the polishing will begin and make up for the time lost," said Chatland.

Bureau Places Large Number

Only 14 Per Cent of 79 Placement Registrants Are Unemployed

Only 14 per cent of the spring, summer and fall quarter graduates of 1939 registered with the placement bureau are unemployed, according to figures released yesterday.

Of the net registration of 79, only 11 are unemployed, 22 have retired from the profession and the status of two is unknown. A total of 51 per cent have found employment through the bureau.

Adele Cohe, secretary of the bureau, requests those who desire to teach but have not yet registered to do so at once. The bureau in Craig hall is open all day from 8:30 to 5 o'clock during the week.

"A number of people have registered but have not yet submitted their photographs. They should do so at once," she said.

Students Visit Dude Ranch

Thirty-five Montana Mountaineers and guests made a trip Sunday to Gibbons pass, 95 miles south of Missoula on Highway 93.

Seventeen of the party stayed overnight at Wetzseon's J-Cross ranch at Sula. A few earlier arrivals also spent Friday and Saturday nights at the ranch.

Professor and Mrs. Guy Fox, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Little and eight students were among those who made the trip. The students were Vera Wilson, Rachel Trask, Isabel Parsons, James Sykes, Glen Cameron, Bill Sloane, Bob Walker and Harold Paulson.

NOTICE

Today is the last chance this quarter for freshmen and new students to take the required Mantoux test at the Health Service. Other students desiring to take the test may do so.

Speaker

PROF. GORDON B. CASTLE

—professor of zoology, spoke last Saturday night on "Modern Methods of Research in Fish and Game" at the Indian agricultural short course program in Dixon.

Day Left for Withdrawals

Four o'clock tomorrow afternoon marks the end of the ninth week of winter quarter and the deadline for students who wish to withdraw from a course or from the university and at the same time receive grades of "W." This grade carries neither credit nor penalty.

The following announcement recently made by the registrar's office explains conditions that accompany withdrawals after the ninth week:

"When a student withdraws after the ninth week, he shall receive one of the regular grades. This may be any of the passing grades, providing the work of the course has been completed; otherwise the student may receive an incomplete grade, a condition or a failure, according to the judgment of the instructor."

Walters and Hall Ski in Anaconda For University

Sam Walters and Don Hall, both from Mullan, Idaho, represented the university in the Northern Rocky Mountain Ski association races held at Wraith hill near Anaconda Saturday and Sunday.

Walters and Hall participated in the downhill race Saturday, classified as class C runners. In the class D slalom race both Walters and Hall slid well, making the course in 2:28.3 and 2:15.9 respectively. Bill Adams, Whitefish, won the race with a time of 2:08.3.

Some of the best downhill racers and jumpers in the country, fresh from national and international meets in Vermont and New Hampshire, participated in the class A events. An unforgettable sight was a double jump performed by Roy Mikkelsen, Apburn, California, and Sverre Engen, Salt Lake City. Highest honors of the meet went to Mikkelsen for winning first in the class A slalom and first in the class A jumping with a leap of 166 feet. Engen trailed Mikkelsen by only a few points in both events.

SDX TO MEET

Sigma Delta Chi will meet at 3 o'clock Wednesday.

Round Table Discussion Centers on Etiquette

The proper way for a man to telephone for a date, the method for a woman to refuse—if she wants to refuse—and other points of etiquette were discussed during the Student-Faculty Round Table radio broadcast Sunday afternoon.

Four to Talk At Gathering Of S-F Group

Bill Plummer, Missoula; Mary Ann Anderson, Raynesford, and Glen Nelson, Missoula, will address Student-Faculty council tonight on the plans and general activities of Newman club, WAA and Mavericks respectively. Grace Jean Wheeler, Ronan, will present her report on the location chosen for the Alpha Lambda Delta lost and found department.

Recently appointed members to Student-Faculty council, selected under the revised method of representation are: Pan-Hellenic council, Dorothy Dyer, Brady; Mavericks, Bill Scott, Great Falls, and Glen Nelson, Missoula; forestry, Bill Fleming, Glendive; band, Tom Willis, Thompson Falls; Social Work club, Gayle Draper, Kalispell; education, Stan Huser, Whitefish.

Faculty

Faculty, Dr. J. W. Howard, Dr. G. B. Castle, Michael Mansfield, Dr. R. A. Coleman and Dr. A. S. Merrill; Interchurch council, Lawrence Grape, East Rochester, New York; Newman club, Bill Plummer, Missoula; business administration, Miles Bush, Medicine Lake; Chemistry club, Stanley Klesney, Cascade; Math and Physics club, James Rooley, Laurel; home economics, Audrey Watson, Butte; WAA, Mary Ann Anderson, Raynesford; Masquers, Manzer Griswold, Townsend; International Relations club, Jo Maury, Butte.

Hall Members

North hall, Mary Leary, Burke, Idaho; South hall, John Sorg, Polson; Corbin hall, Ted James, Black Eagle; New hall, Jo Maury, Butte; Batchelors' Buying club, Kenneth Bangs, Inverness.

Law, Press club and Phi Sigma will choose representatives in the near future. Interfraternity council has voted not to have a representative in the Student-Faculty council.

Pollock, Marra Have Operations

Mary Beth Pollock, Helena, had her appendix removed at St. Patrick's hospital Saturday, and Myron Marra, Havre, underwent an appendectomy there Sunday. Beryl Hester, Butte, entered St. Patrick's Sunday and Angus McKay, Plains, went there yesterday.

Leona Welsh, Missoula, was admitted to Thornton hospital Monday and Kermit Gysler, Hinsdale; George Reade, Riverside, California, and John Page, Essex, entered South hall infirmary yesterday.

John Larson, Great Falls, was released from St. Patrick's Friday and Elizabeth Ann Jones, Missoula, and Glenn Clark, Spokane, Washington, left there Saturday. Theola Miuli, Kila, was released from Thornton hospital yesterday.

Speakers on the program, which was devoted to the question, "What is contemporary American etiquette?" were Miss Anne C. Platt, professor of home economics; Lucie Clapp, Missoula; Laila B. Woods, Missoula, and Charles Luedke, Missoula.

Ask Immediately

When telephoning for a date, a man should not embarrass a woman by asking her what she is going to do on a certain night; he should ask for the date immediately, Miss Platt remarked. The person who calls should always end the conversation, she said.

Miss Platt agreed there are many definitions of etiquette, but said she preferred the one that said etiquette is kindly consideration of others. Etiquette expresses the personality of a person, agreed forum speakers.

Origin of Etiquette

Giving the origin of etiquette, Miss Platt said that, during the reign of Louis XIV or XV, a gardener complained to the king that the lords and ladies were walking over his garden. The king advised the gardener to place signs with the word "etiquette" on them to show the people where to walk. When the signs were disregarded, the king issued a decree which stated that the people should walk as the etiquette signs indicated.

Etiquette should be and usually is a practical affair, Miss Clapp observed. She said that it is just as much of a bore to be over-meticulous as under-meticulous.

The forum speakers predicted that etiquette will change in the future and will become more informal and more genuinely considerate of other people.

Grass Patrol To Be Posted

A patrol composed of Bear Paws and Spurs will police certain locations about the campus where students continue to cut across the grass, Derek Price, Chief Grizzly of the Bear Paws, revealed yesterday.

"Several of the signs we posted as reminders to keep off the grass have been damaged," Price declared. "We urge the students not to molest them as they are quite expensive and are necessary in the locations where they have been posted."

Price urges the students who attend the physical science lecture in Simpkins hall to keep off the grass when leaving the building.

Line to Explain Montana Law

Robert C. Line, dean of the School of Business Administration, will address the Northwest Conference on Distribution in Seattle tomorrow on "The Operation of the Unfair Practice Act in Montana."

Dean Line is one of the two out-of-state men to address the conference sponsored by the University of Washington.

Will We Buy an Equity In the Finnish War?

On a slack day in Congress recently, the Senate approved private lending to Finland by the overwhelming margin of 63-10. The resolution could have been nothing more than a trial balloon on the much more important question of government lending to the beleaguered little republic.

Public reaction to this significant resolution, sanctioning Wall street backing of the Russo-Finnish conflict, has been far from hostile. In fact, the grass roots become more vocal each day in the persistent campaign to pave the way for government lending to Finland.

As these events take place in this country, the scene on the western front is stalemated. Spring brings with it the possibility of a shift of the arena of war from the West wall to the Scandinavian front. The advantages of such Allied strategy are manifold. The Allied blockade could be wrung tighter around Germany, Germany would be drawn in to aid Russia and would weaken her defense by fighting on two fronts, Italian sympathy would swing toward the Allies and action on the northern front would be a shot in the arm to Allied public opinion.

A formal declaration of war would not accompany the sending of troops to the Karelian front but would only take the form of "informal aid"—though aid on as large a scale as that given by Italy and Germany to Franco.

Assuming that the United States lets down the bars and permits lending to Finland, what does an Allied shift to Scandinavia mean to us? The picture would not be dissimilar to that in 1917. The United States would be buying an equity in the Finnish war—a war in which Allied forces would soon outnumber those of the Finnish. This country would then be in a position of indirect financiers of a war which had by that time become an Allied war. Our interests would then be identical with those of Chamberlain and Daladier. Caught in such a mesh, the only path open would be to send little Johnny off to fight with the Allies—and to save civilization once more.

Once Proud Junior ROTC Is Minus Brassy Swagger

"No Sam Browne belts for the juniors," ruled Colonel E. C. Jones from his ROTC shack. This spring instead of the usual swaggering bunch of junior officers parading in shining new uniforms, polished leather and brass, the corps will be manned by a meek crew of platoon sergeants — minus much brass, leather—nearly all the swagger.

Colonel Jones explained to the unwilling juniors that this was the correct policy of the ROTC and that heretofore they had been getting an unwarranted ranking their first year. Besides, he reasoned, it doesn't leave any promotion open for some. Starting as second lieutenants their first year found most of them in the same place their senior year.

So it's three chevrons for the sleeve, a title of sergeant, and a platoon to boss for the newly advanced soldier.

The juniors smile weakly and hope that more humiliation won't be added by being forced to pack a gun. Disappointment rankles in their ambitious young hearts.

Louise Selkirk, 1939 business administration graduate, is at her home in Fishtail, Montana, doing secretarial work for the proposed rural electrification project.

Education Report Released by AFL

The Permanent Committee on Education of the American Federation of Labor released a statement on education to all central labor unions and affiliated bodies throughout the United States on February 21, according to E. A. Atkinson, professor of psychology.

In the statement was the resolution to secure "compulsory school attendance laws . . . closely correlated with the child labor laws, so that conflicting standards do not permit interference with continuous schooling." Laws for poverty exemption should be abolished, the report read.

"Adequate appropriations for maintenance of schools to be administered for the social well-being of the students to be taught in classes not to exceed 25, in well-constructed buildings, by teachers

TX's, SAE's Enter Greek Debate Finals

Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon debate teams battle tomorrow night in the Interfraternity debate tournament finals for the cup awarded the winner by Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic honorary. Both Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon teams have won two matches and lost one. Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta won one and lost two matches. Sigma Chi's hopes for a tie in the tournament were blasted by Phi Delta Theta last Thursday.

Winner of the finals receives the Tau Kappa Alpha cup for one year. The fraternity that wins the championship three years in succession is awarded permanent possession of the cup, according to Garvin Shallenberger, Missoula, Interfraternity debate tournament manager.

Bill Ballas, Missoula, and Ernest Crutcher, Kellogg, Idaho, are the Sigma Alpha Epsilon debaters. Colin MacLeod, Hardin, and Roy Chapman, Bellflower, California, will represent Theta Chi.

The debate proposition for the tournament is "Resolved, that the federal government should own and operate the railroads," said Shallenberger. The Oregon cross-examination system of debating will be used. A member of Tau Kappa Alpha will judge the match.

Visiting Debaters Meet Varsity

Betty Lou Points, Missoula, and Louise Jarussi, Red Lodge, women varsity debaters, debated a team from the State Normal college of Dillon last Friday. Virginia Hudson and Claribel Houchen represented State Normal.

The non-decision match, held in the library, was on the question, "Resolved, that the United States should observe strict economic isolation toward all nations outside the Western Hemisphere engaged in armed conflict."

Kappa Psi's Pledge Four

Kappa Psi, national pharmaceutical honorary fraternity, announced the pledging of Jay Plumb, Roy, Russell Anderson, Rhame, North Dakota; Arthur Beattie, Neihart, and Laurence Dignan, Forsyth, at their regular meeting last week.

The meeting was in honor of alumni members of Kappa Psi living in Missoula. Those present were Guy Stegner of the high school faculty, Francis Peterson, Bob Corkish, Hilmer Hansen and Lud Polish, all local druggists.

Dr. Donald Hetler, professor of bacteriology and hygiene, was the feature speaker of the meeting. He gave a colorful history of the development of the smallpox vaccine and described the new method of obtaining the vaccine from the egg of the chick embryo instead of from cattle. He also discussed serums for chicken cholera, anthrax (cattle disease), tuberculosis and Rocky Mountain fever and tick vaccines.

paid salaries commensurate with the great value of their service to the community" make up another platform of the committee.

Also advocated by the committee are statewide teacher tenure laws, pension laws and provisions for leaves of absence with adequate compensation.

Society

Rooters Travel To Bozeman

Society on the campus this week-end was in as full swing as the Grizzlies were in Bozeman when they did themselves proud to the tune of two more victories over the Aggies. Grizzly rooters who traveled to Bozeman this week-end to cheer the team through the doubleheader included Barbara Boorman, Billings; Phyllis Berg, Livingston; Jane Pence and Jane Chaffin, Bozeman; June O'Brien, Regina, Saskatchewan; Margaret Morse, Butte; Maribeth Kitt and Betty Paxson, Missoula; Annetta Grunert, Butte, and Ruth Heidel, Broadus.

Chaperons Kept Busy At Campus Functions

Here, the Sigma Nus and their visiting delegates from Washington and Idaho took the spotlight, concluding the week-end's flurries with a banquet and semi-formal dance Saturday night. Coffee Dan, Phi Sigma Kappa yearly entertainer, presided over festivities at the Top Hat Saturday night. Friday night the Alpha Phi dinner dance, the Theta Chi formal and the Kappa Delta fireside and an informal radio dance at the Alpha Delta Pi house kept the chaperons busy.

Many Visit Out of Town

Despite all these activities, a number took the week-end to go home or out of town to visit friends. Shirley Ann Kincaid, Whitefish, went to Superior; Jean Nichols home to Deer Lodge, Ann Clements to her home in Helena; Florence Freeman to Havre, Gerry James to Butte, Laura Mattson to Corvallis, Phyllis Smith to Great Falls, Joanne Middleton to Deer Lodge and Gay Kelly to Butte.

Helen Johnson and Dorothy Dyer, Brady, spent Sunday at Helen's home in Hall and Mrs. Isabel Conkey, Sigma Kappa housemother, visited friends in Hamilton Saturday.

Campus Visitors Over Week-end

Then there were many who visited on the campus over the week-end or were entertained at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Scarborough, Butte, were here to visit Mrs. Scarborough's sister, Gordon Eckford, Choteau, and Bonnie Saurey, Columbia Falls, stayed with Jane Sloan, Belton, at North hall.

Jean Casto's sister, Blanche, was here from St. Regis. Marjorie Mumm, Missoula, was a house guest at the Sigma Kappa house Saturday night.

Dorothy Brennan, Deer Lodge, was a week-end guest of Betty Hoskins, Deer Lodge, at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Mrs. C. Gibson, Butte, visited her daughter, Emmajane, and Florence Loberg, Lonepine, and Mrs. Alonzo Hanson, White Sulphur Springs, were guests at the Kappa Delta house.

KKG's Have Dinner Guests

Virginia Lou Walters, Charlo, and Jane Keen, Butte, were guests of Patty Geagan, Butte, and Marjorie Jacobs, Missoula, was the guest of Jean Weisman, Lewiston, Idaho, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house for dinner Sunday. Jane Schuyler, Helena, and Virginia Rimmel, Missoula, were Saturday dinner guests of Pat Fletcher, Helena, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Becky Brandborg, Hamilton, was the Sunday dinner guest of Joan Kenard, Great Falls, at the Delta Gamma house; Yvonne Talon and Leona Welch, Missoula, were

Home Ec Staff Conference Set For This Week

Miss Susan Burson, federal agent of the office of Education, Washington, D. C., will confer with everyone connected with home economics teacher training in the state on the campus March 7 and 8, according to Miss Lelia Massey, state supervisor of home economics.

Miss Gladys Branegan, professor of home economics at the state college; Miss Florence Lloyd, supervising teacher trainer and Mrs. Hardwood, assistant state supervisor and teacher of home economics methods courses at Bozeman, will attend the conference where problems dealing with teacher training will be discussed.

Miss Agnes Brady, methods teacher in charge of teacher training at the university, and Miss Marie Nagovsky, supervising teacher at Stevensville, will be members of the conference group.

Miss Helen Gleason, professor of home economics, will entertain the group at dinner Wednesday prior to the beginning of the conference.

guests Sunday at the Sigma Kappa house and Bill Stevens, Missoula, was the guest of Leclerc Page, Butte, at New hall Sunday.

Dinner Guests At Dormitories

Dinner guests during the week-end included Dr. and Mrs. Francis Giles and Dr. and Mrs. Meredith Hesdorffer, guests of Mrs. Frank Turner at New hall Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pope, Missoula residents who recently returned from a business trip in Washington, guests of Mrs. Rossi Sweitzer at North hall Sunday.

Evelyn Heald, Cody, Wyoming, and Madge Scott, Butte, were guests of Elfriede Zeek, Somers, and Mary Jo Pease, Butte, at Sunday dinner at North hall.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Has Formal Initiation

Seven pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon were initiated formally in the Gold room of the Student Union building Sunday morning. The new initiates are Bill Lasby, Townsend; Don Green, Great Falls; Charles Kissack, Great Falls; Wahle Phelan, Butte; Ernest Crutcher, Kellogg, Idaho, and Harold Helgeson, Great Falls.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Founders' day was celebrated by a banquet at the Grill Sunday. Mr. George Roosevelt and Arthur Deschamps of Missoula were guest speakers and Don Bradley, Terry, and Normal Nelson, Anaconda, were student speakers.

Jack Gannon, Great Falls, was a week-end guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Ronald Johnson, Great Falls, was a dinner guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Sunday.

Jimmy Spelman, '28, Anaconda, was a week-end guest of Sigma Chi.

Gilman Aller, Big Timber, was a Sunday dinner guest of Sigma Chi.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cogswell, Missoula; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Corry, Butte, and "Albie" Stephens, Great Falls, were Sunday dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta.

Kermit Gyser, Hinsdale, and Brinton Jackson, Kalispell, were dinner guests of Sigma Phi Epsilon Sunday.

Virginia Bell, Glendive; James Love, Butte; Lois Walters, Butte, and Vic Bottomly, Great Falls, were dinner guests of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Bill Buttry, Fort Peck, was a week-end guest of Phi Sigma Kappa.

State Champion Grizzlies Will Represent Montana At AAU Tournament

Two Wins Over Bobcat Squad Last Week-end
Makes Clean Sweep for Dahlbergmen; Team
Will Travel to Denver Tourney March 17

For the second consecutive year the Grizzlies snatched the state basketball title away from the Bobcats and, with these wins, earned the right to travel to Denver March 17 to enter the National Amateur Athletic union's tourney. The Crow Agency Indians and the Butte Natural Gas clubs represented Montana at Denver last year. The Montanamen made it a clean sweep in their annual four-game series as they won the final basketball game of the season Saturday night 56-52. They snapped out of a first-half slump Friday night after trailing 16-22 to lop off another victory, 41-51.

Montana stepped out in front in Friday's game but faded as opportunity shots by Brickley and Hall of Montana State put the Bobcats ahead six points at the half. After the intermission Ryan and Greene began an attack which whittled down the Bobcat lead in the first four minutes. Brickley was ejected on fouls and the Dahlbergmen were soon out in front. The game was rough, Brickley, J. Hall and Berg being lost to the Cats, Jones, W. Hall and Greene being benched for the invaders.

Grizzlies Repeat

Greene and Ryan again pulled the victory away from the Bobcats Saturday night. After a 50-50 tie in the closing minutes, Greene scored twice and Ryan's field goal and two free throws gave the victory to the university. Brickley was high-scorer for the Cats with 27 points, while W. Hall and Jones with 17 and 12 led the Grizzly attack.

STATE CHAMPS

The state champions of intercollegiate basketball, Montana's Grizzlies, now point their hopes of more victories towards Denver, where one of hoopdom's greatest shows begins in a couple of weeks. Half a hundred teams, college and independent, will see if they can crash into the national AAU championship, now held by the Denver Nuggets. Jiggs wasn't unduly pessimistic when he left Missoula Friday for Bozeman, but he didn't want to say his team was going to the Denver tourney until they polished off the Aggies. In fact they wouldn't have gone down unless they defeated the Aggies. But they gave the Bobcats a severe drubbing in four straight games this year.

Captain Barney Ryan, Art Merrick and Frank Nugent will kiss the boys goodby at the end of the Denver tourney, for their basketball careers at Montana State university will be over, but coming up will be enough talent to more than offset the "sensational" frosh club coming up over at Bozeman next year. Bobcats lose tall Jack Brickley, a good point snatcher, Arnold Reed and Jean Berg. Unless something drastic happens to mar the present outlook for Montana's hoop team next year, the Grizzly reign of terror on the court will continue as it has the last few years. The experience gained by playing in the fast Denver tourney will aid those Grizzlies coming back next year, and with Greene, Hall, Hudacek, Jones, DeGroot, Dahmer, Clawson, Miller and others returning, Montana's hopes don't look exceedingly glum at the present writing. Congratulations on the brilliant season, Jiggs and Grizzlies.

Odds and Ends: As much as Ralph Vaughn, terrific Trojan forward, has been touted as the terror of the Pacific coast basketball courts, Jackie Robinson, UCLA's colored all-around sports star, copped the southern division high-scoring honors. Robinson pitched 148 points to Vaughn's 138. And to make it more amazing, UCLA finished in the division cellar.

Schubert Dyche, Bobcat director of physical education, has declared a track and field moratorium at the college for this spring. Lack of money and training time caused the Aggies to abandon track, but they will probably come back next fall with a team.

At the university, Coach Harry Adams is waiting for a bit of continuous sunshine so he can send his tracksters legging around Dornblaser in preparation for the coming season. Harry has three of the best quarter and middle-distance runners in the northwest in Captain Jack Emigh, Ole Ueland and Wilbert Murphy. Emigh has marks of 9.6 in the 100, 20.7 in the 220 and 48 flat in the quarter. Both Ueland and Murphy have touched 48 in the quarter and rip off the 880 around 1:56 in good competition. Lots of points in these events this year. Big Jim Seyler

National Contest Will Determine College Queen

Do Montana State university students believe their campus has co-eds who will rank with beauties of other colleges? If they do, they have an opportunity to nominate candidates for All-American College Queen.

A motion picture company and a radio and a movie magazine are conducting a nation-wide contest for the College Queen through leading college papers, including the Kaimin. The contest began March 4 and ends March 30.

Each entrant must submit a photograph of herself to be sent to New York for judging by a group of prominent artists not later than April 6.

The two magazines will publish photographs of winners from each college entered and readers will vote for the 12 national winners.

These 12 will be guests of the motion picture company, with all expenses paid, at the world premiere of "Those Were The Days," at Knox college, Galesburg, Illinois, May 21. At Knox College the College Queen will be chosen.

The 12 editors of the college papers sponsoring the winners will also be guests.

Winners will travel to Hollywood with all expenses paid to be given talent auditions. A varied program of entertainment is planned for them. Consolation prizes will be awarded to state and semi-final national winners.

Any suggestions or nominations for the contest may be given to the Kaimin office.

Communications

Fellow Students:

It behooves we students at Montana to "snap out of it," and investigate the ideals or traditions which we are sanctioning or opposing—reference: the Kaimin drive for trackmeet funds.

The Kaimin—the life organ of this campus—has been rewarded in a very unjust manner for their effort to assist in further benefits to the school.

We believe this reaction has been due to a misconstrued conception of the true purpose and the true merits of the drive. With the probable chance of realizing some funds above those needed to finance the annual interscholastic trackmeet and choosing to be self-supporting, the Kaimin elected to sponsor the drive. If the sole purpose of their efforts were only to perpetrate an old tradition, it would be worthy of support. When an undertaking not only supports a tradition but also effects the financial security of OUR Kaimin, we should co-operate wholeheartedly.

If we chose to eliminate the school activities one by one, the Kaimin would be the last to go. It is the vital organ of school activities. Would we allow its standards to be lowered? We do contribute to its support, approximately one dollar each school year. In return, we get a paper superior to that for which students on other campuses pay far more. We should all be proud of the Kaimin and appreciate the efforts of its staff to give us a wide coverage of campus news four days every week.

To those who have taken the opportunity to attack athletics—PHOOEY. Who takes a worse beating than the athletes? And who isn't just a little proud when he hears the toll of the Victory Bell? If you knew the University and understood its functions you would know the athletic department is not connected with the interscholastic trackmeet. They do

Lou on Spot, Mater Moans

Elizabeth Wood, dressed in a white sheet, paced nervously about the flag pole on the oval a few minutes after 12 o'clock Friday night. For 25 minutes she waited for the appearance of the men who promised to bring back the lost Loucasta. She walked home discouraged.

When she arrived at the Tri Delt house she heard voices from a car parked in front, "Hey, Liz!" Slowly she walked to the curb.

Inside the car were three men, their heads sunk deep into their coat collars, their hats pulled low, their faces unrecognizable. A shotgun rested across the knees of one of the men in the front seat. The driver thrust a note into Elizabeth's hand.

"You failed to carry out our instructions to meet us at twelve midnight sharp. If you still want your Loucasta, communicate with us in Tuesday's Kaimin. Signed, the Kidnapers. If you do not communicate by Tuesday evening, we shall have to rub out Loucasta," the note, crudely printed on hotel stationery, read.

Saturday Elizabeth Wood, foster mother of Loucasta, a dress form borrowed from the home economics department as a decoration for Co-ed ball, received an anonymous telephone call seeking to arrange terms of the ransom.

Elizabeth suggested dates to next support it, however, and why not? It is one of the school's biggest assets.

Probably, and we are sure you will all agree, the reason for the antagonistic reception the drive has received until now was caused by the mention of that ten-dollar deposit. We were all rankled when it was imposed and further mention of it only aggravates. In retaliation we are determined to oppose any effort at further extortion. This prompted such signatures as J. Learnedbrow, Ima Sap, Carrie Kane and Dubby Kapp. Then, those who did wish to take advantage of the chance to save money and at the same time support a tradition hesitated to sign their names. Those who have signed in good faith are to be commended and those who wish to sign will have an opportunity to do so when paying their spring quarter fees.

Let's cut out the "kid stuff" and get behind this drive. And remember, Confucius say: "He who hesitates not always lost, but often loser."

year's Co-ed ball as a substitute for currency.

The voice laughed sinisterly. "Dem jewels is hot. We could never pawn 'em off."

She was warned not to try to trace the note by stationery or to submit it to handwriting experts.

When Elizabeth suggested that arms were unnecessary at a future meeting, the absconder informed her that the gun was merely Loucasta's base. The gal just wouldn't fit in the car.

Before the call was terminated, the anxious foster mother timidly proffered the sincere hope that the captors were treating Loucasta like gentlemen.

Further negotiations for the return of Loucasta are now being effected.

MOTHER'S PLEA

Dear Loucasta-Lifters:

Just one more chance, I beg of you. For sweet Loucasta I promise faithfully to meet and fulfill any terms for her speedy and safe return.

In repentance,

ELIZABETH WOOD.

CAMPUS SYPHILIS RATE BELOW NATIONAL AVERAGE

Students at the university and other American colleges are relatively free from syphilis, according to national collegiate figures released yesterday by Dr. David C. Hall, director of the university health service.

Whereas the United States Public Health department reports one in every 10 persons is or has been afflicted by the disease, only .3 per cent of the collegiate population is included in this number, Dr. Hall pointed out. This means about 35 of the university's 10,600 students are infected with the venereal disease.—U. of Washington Daily.

NOTICE

Geno Fopp, NYA timekeeper, announces that the NYA month ends March 21. Students who have not worked out their time by the end of the quarter may work during spring vacation, but any person who is unable to work out his allotment should release the unearned amount or the expected unearned amount at the NYA office so that it may be allotted to other students.
